A SOLID CASE FOR SELF EXPRESSION.

Select hardwoods and maple veneers give this collection its strength. Now you give it heart. Our new finish palette invites self-expression in a range of classic wood tone and paint options. For that lived-in painted finish look, choose a hand-weathered effect that exposes the undercoat around soft corners and drawer pulls. The careful distressing and artful application of a contrasting tint “antiques” wood tone finishes to project a casual mood.

You'll sleep easier when it's Young America.

With its Made in America quality and safety, its design innovation, and incomparable styling and finish options, Young America helps you create environments that are inspiring, safe, nurturing and healthy for your child. It is in these spaces your child will wonder, create, grow and ultimately become whatever he or she is meant to be.

A safe environment is a pretty big responsibility, and one Young America takes very seriously; so seriously that internal systems for safety testing and quality control surpass even the most stringent regulations set down by the Consumer Products Safety Commission. From the green initiatives for sourcing lumber, to the special formulation of paints and finishes that are sensitive to the indoor air quality, Young America, more than any other manufacturer, takes the safety of your child's personal space to heart.

An open-and-shut case of craftsmanship and ingenuity.

Easy to close.
 Easy to adjust.
 Easy to remove.
 Crafted with English dovetails in all four corners, our drawers also use state-of-the-art safety-limited extension slides. Give the drawer a gentle push and watch it self-close ... quietly, safely and kindly to little fingers. What's more, there's never been a drawer that's easier to remove. Adjusting it is a snap, too, so it's always centered, always looking good.

ONE GREAT IDEA ON TOP OF ANOTHER.

Tweens become teens ... siblings grow up, get their own room, others leave for college ... one chapter ends, a new one begins. When you sign on for the family experience, change is certain. We'll help you invest wisely with flexible solutions for sleep and storage through our wide-ranging Built to Grow™ product assortment.
