

MATTRESS BRAND breakdown

Omaha Bedding Co.

Omaha Bedding Company proves that a great night of sleep doesn't have to be expensive. Since 1895, the small, family-owned company has produced high-quality, American-made mattresses at budget-friendly prices. Its comfortable innerspring mattresses use dependable Leggett & Platt coils, while the company's Berkshire line utilizes premium materials like gel memory foam and latex comfort layers. Whether you're a recent graduate or a bargain hunter, it's hard to do better than Omaha Bedding Company.

Sealy

Sealy's storied history dates back more than 130 years to a Sealy, Texas, cotton gin builder named Daniel Haynes who created the first cotton-filled mattress. Innovation followed, as Sealy was the first manufacturer to involve an Orthopedic Advisory Board in the mattress design process. Sealy mattresses offer choice, value and comfort. The flagship Sealy Posturepedic line utilizes encase titanium alloy coils while Posturepedic Hybrid combines the support of encased coils and plush, body-hugging memory foam.

Serta

Serta is the No. 1 mattress producer in the United States. Its flagship Perfect Sleeper line of mattresses is constructed with input from the National Sleep Foundation to offer a sound design and a transformative sleep experience. Serta's iComfort line offers Cool Action gel memory foam, while its iSeries mattresses boast breakthrough hybrid technology. Serta has embraced environmentally-friendly practices, including the use of recycled steel innersprings and sustainably-sourced wood.

Simmons

Simmons has a long, rich history of forging new ground in mattress technology. They invented the individually wrapped coil in 1925 and established queen and king sizing in the 1950s that continues today. Simmons BeautySleep mattresses offer superb value, while the flagship Beautyrest line offers a multitude of choices with state-of-the-art technology. For truly luxurious sleep, explore the high-end world of Beautyrest Black, with heat-dissipating Tencel fibers, Advanced Pocketed Coils and diamond-infused memory foam.

Stearns & Foster

Grounded in tradition but steeped in innovation, Stearns and Foster mattresses blend authentic craftsmanship with the finest materials in the world for an ethereal sleep experience. Deluxe features include advanced IntelliCoil coil-in-coil innersprings, titanium alloy construction, silk- and cashmere-infused materials, a durable StabiLux edge support system and PrimaCool gel memory foam. Each mattress is hand-signed by the artisan who crafted it, promising luxury, extravagance & an unmatched night of sleep.

Tempurpedic

Born from NASA research & backed by years of advancement, Tempurpedic delivers incredible comfort, unparalleled support and an exceptional night of sleep. Its proprietary Tempur material responds to your body's shape, weight and temperature to lessen pressure points, reduce motion transfer and align your body. Tempur-Cloud offers plush, pillowy comfort, Tempur-Contour promises firm, highly-conforming support and Tempur-Flex boasts a Dynamic Support layer for a responsive, one-of-a-kind sleep experience.